| 3 | 1) I would love to see significant redevelopment of the intersection of 50th and Division. It's a key transit intersection, where the 4 and 14 meet, and it's currently mostly parking lot and a giant intersection that's horrible for pedestrians and bicyclists. I literally dream about how great and lively this intersection could be. 2) The baseball field in front of Franklin High desperately wants to be reimagined as a gateway to a really cool park-and-school complex, instead of a long, shadeless stretch of sidewalk, chainlink fence, and unloved parking strip | 1012 | Y | no answer | Y | N | | | 30-39 | Unemployed |

| 18 | 26th and Clinton is a prime example of historic Division/Clinton. If this corner were changed I would cry. Division Hardware is one if the last non-restaurant, essential businesses on the street. 60th and Division is just interesting--the old reservoir pump house (I would also cry if this disappeared) and the coffeehouse building. Tom's Restaurant has personal, sentimental value. | 1101 | Y | 30 | Adjacent Residential | Y | 19 | N | 50-59 | Arts, Design, Entertainment, Sports, and Media Occupations |

| 52 | 1: This area has alot of memories for me. I lived a block away in the late 90's Natures, The old coffee shop who's name I cant recall some kooky resale stores and the Oregon Theatre all lent a unique feel to the neighborhood. 2: Stumptown coffee original location. Many hours spent here. Good memories. 3: The old Egyptian room club. Such a shame when this focus of the community closed it's doors. | 1233 | Y | 11 | N | Y | 10 | N | 30-39 | Management Occupations |

| 81 | 1. All of Clinton. Smart use of resources to have a design-specific, bike friendly street. Bummer that construction and parking congestion from Division has absolutely made it busier and far less safe! 2. D-Street Village is a great use of that structure. 3. Piccolo Park. Why hasn't Portland bought more open space, pocket parks! They use no city resources: no schools, no fire, no police, no street maintenance! | 87 | I love my neighborhood, but I don't have any specific allegiance to any one place or building, etc. Things change over time. I know people fear change, but no one really wants things not to evolve. Should we all dress in the style that existed when we were kids? Or only listen to popular music from our youth? Not all changes are good, but we can't and shouldn't try to stop a neighborhoods natural evolution. We live in a dense inner city neighborhood. It is going to get denser. The adult foster care facility, because these types of facilities are too often pushed out of neighborhoods to the fringes of our community, and I value them being at the center of it. And the adult theater, because in spite of its appearance it serves a specific part of the neighborhood that is easily overlooked or pushed out. | 1972 | N | 2.5 [used to live] | N | N | | | no answer | Community and Social Services Occupations |

| 180 | 1. First of all, I choose the native Oregon Myrtle tree (probably 100 year old or more) at the triplex property on 52nd and SE Division. This is a beautiful, heritage-worthy-tree, home to thousands of migrating birds, that is threatened to be removed, as the out-of-town landlady, ["personal name omitted"], wishes to put a towering multi-story commercial condo complex on the property (as told to the RNA last February). 2) I chose the intersection of 26th and Clinton for its village-like charm. 3) I also chose Piccolo Park, the sweet little community park, a hidden gem. 4) I chose the community gardens on 18th and | 2961 | Y | 15 | Y | N | | no answer | 40-49 | Business and Financial Operations Occupations |

| 183 | 1. ["Personal information omitted"] a 1920s apartment complex and it adds some character and history to the neighborhood. 2. The tree and lot and house ["close"] to my home. The landlord/owner of this property has recently applied for commercial zoning, intending, I am sure, to sell the Victorian home on the property to a developer who will cut down the beautiful old tree and build something that eliminates the yard. It will also displace the tenants of the house, who have lived there for longer than I have lived in my home. 3. The corner of 50th and Division. The Los Gorditos cart has been there for many years. On Cinco de Mayo they have live music. My understanding is that this corner is going to become a 134-unit building, which will drastically change the skyline and the look of the neighborhood. 4. The food carts. It's great to have inexpensive food nearby, especially given all the fancy expensive restaurants that have opened up on Division St. 5. The Tropical Hut. This is a great example of a funky business that keeps some character in the hood. I worry that small eccentric businesses like this one will slowly disappear as the rents and property values go up. | 3350 | Y | 8 | Y | N | | no answer | 40-49 | Arts, Design, Entertainment, Sports, and Media Occupations |

| 185 | Dog park, softball field, active park at the Hosford school. Need new sitting park and fountains at 28th place. New Seasons is a great center. The historic old porn theater building should become something nice. PokPok should remain exactly as it is (hard to get in to!) | 3675 | Y | 7 | Y | no answer | | no answer | 60-69 | Retired |
| 186 | The meaningful areas I have designated are all public park spaces. They are ALL miniature pocket parks because the city has historically ignored (and continues to ignore) the need for park amenities in the surrounding neighborhood while subsidizing the abominations along the corridor which make it LESS liveable. More open park space is needed. | 3676 | Y | 30 | Adjacent Residential | N | | no answer | 60-69 | Education, Training, and Library Occupations |

| 194 | I just chose major intersections. I like intersections for their possibilities of "place-making." I love all the food carts and small businesses at 50th & Division near my home. (Looking forward to the Green Zebra!) Chavez & Division is pretty awful; would be nice to see it become more people-friendly, but I don't know how... 26th, 20th, and 12th all have good and bad points in that regard. | 3692 | Y | 19 | Y | Y | 8 | Y | 40-49 | No Answer |
